

October 10, 1961

Dr. Roger Stanier
Department of Bacteriology
University of California
Berkeley, California

Dear Roger:

Welcome back.

You may remember we had some discussion before you left for Paris last year about the interest that would attach to a reinvestigation of the presence of DNA in chloroplasts. If you have not already seen it you might be interested in a note on the subject included in an article by Hans Ris, who is working together with Walter Plout on this subject.

We hope to be seeing you before long.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics

Ref: Ultrastructure and Molecular Organization of Genetic Systems. Can. J. Genet. Cytol. 3: 95-120. 1961.